PRE-WAR TRIPLE ALLIANCE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN REVIEWED

LONDON COMMENT ON AGREEMENT UNWISE TO BE TOO OPTIMISTIC WHAT WILL DUCE DO NEXT?

London, To-day.

A cautious view of the Austro-German rapprochement is taken by diplomatic circles in London. The opinion is expressed that while it removes, at least temporarily, a danger spot, it would be unwise to be too optimistic.

It is felt that the agreement does not necessarily imply that German pressure on Austria will cease entirely. It is thought that Herr Hitler may change his method and exercise pressure from internal rather than external sources.

Despite the Austrian declaration that Nazi propaganda will not be permitted the opinion is expressed that as freedom will be given to many Nazi propagandists they are not likely to remain silent.

It is considered obvious that the rapprochement was known and agreed to in advance by Signor Mussolini and there is speculation as to whether the Duce may propound a modernised version of the Four-Power Pact of 1933, which will recognise the increased influence of the Soviet in European affairs.

Smiling with Purser P. F. Armour, Ann Harding, the famous movie star, is here shown just before disembarking at Liverpool last month with her daughter, Jane, after her successful flight from the warrants of her ex-husband, Harry Bannister, carrying Ann with the abduction of Jane. Her many British admirers nearly mobbed her when she landed.

ITALY NO LONGER JUNIOR PARTNER ITALO-GERMAN PACT ANTICIPATED

AUSTRO-GERMAN AGREEMENT TRIUMPH FOR MUSSOLINI

Berlin, To-day.

Replying to a telegram of greeting from Chancellor von Schuschnigg on the occasion of the conclusion of the Austro-German agreement, Herr Hitler hopes that the agreement will restore the traditional relations which have grown from social unity and century-old history in order to pave the way for further joint activity for the benefit of the two German nations and the strengthening of the peace of Europe.

The papers comment on the good relations with Italy.

Rome: The agreement is considered a triumph for Signor Mussolini's diplomacy. The question is asked in some quarters, whether it is a forerunner of an Italo-German agreement. It is taken for granted that no more will be heard of the Stresa front, and the expression is heard that the pre-war Triple Alliance has been revived, with Italy no longer the junior partner.

— Reuter.

Berlin: The Fuehrer has received the following telegram from the Austrian Federal Chancellor, Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg:

"The conclusion of the Agreement, whose aim it is to restore the friendly and neighbourly relations between the two German States, offers me the welcome opportunity to greet your Excellency as Fuehrer and Chancellor of the German Reich and at the same time to give expression to the conviction that the operation of this agreement will promote the wellbeing of Austria and the German Reich and consequently be a blessing to the whole German people. I believe that Your Excellency will share my opinion that this agreement is also a valuable contribution towards general peace."

FUEHRER'S REPLY

The Fuehrer and Reichschancellor thereupon replied:

"The greetings which Your Excellency extends to me on the occasion of to-day's conclusion of the Austro-German Treaty are heartily reciprocated. I add the wish that by this agreement the old traditional relations rooted in racial unity and century-old similarity of history will be restored in order that the two German States might work together in

FIRST AND SECOND ARMY IN CONFLICT

GENERAL YU SEEKS POST NOW HELD BY GENERAL CHEN

REPORTED CONTEMPLATING CAPTURE OF CANTON

[From Our Own Correspondent]

Canton, To-day.

Minor clashes occurred on Saturday night between the Second Army and the First Army, which has deserted to Nanking, at Hung Mui Po on the Kwangtung-Kiangsi borders. The losses on both sides are reported to have been very slight.

It is stated that General Yu Hon-mou, Commander of the First Army, will shortly return from Nanking to lead his army from Ta Yu, Southern Kiangsi, to capture Canton. He will remain in the capital until he has struck a bargain with General Chiang Kai-shek, President of the Executive Yuan.

It is learned here that General Yu is running for the post of Pacification Commissioner of Canton, thus replacing General Chen Chi-tang as the chief military figure of this province.

Nanking official reports forecasting the imminent retirement of General Chen Chi-tang are not borne out by facts. The local military chief has no intention of giving up his post, despite the defection of the First Army and nine aeroplanes to Nanking. He counts on the support of his remaining units and Kwangsi reinforcements for a final struggle against his arch-enemy, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

SUB-COMMITTEES MEET AT NANKING

SUBSTANTIAL, IMPORTANT AND PRACTICAL PROPOSALS

Nanking, To-day.

The various sub-committees met yesterday morning and examined the proposals of the sub-committee on educational affairs and completed the work of the sub-committee on political affairs. They are meeting again to-day.

If the dozen or so proposals submitted pass the second general meeting to-day the plenary conference is expected to adjourn to-morrow, following the third general meeting. Two of the most important tasks are the selection of a successor to Mr. Hu Han-min as chairman of the standing committee of the Central Executive Council, and the verdict of the fate of the South-west executive committee of the South-west Political Council.

One feature of the conference is the scarcity of the proposals. All, however, are described as substantial, important and practical.

HU HAN-MIN'S BURIAL

ALL FLAGS FLYING AT HALF-MAST

TWO MINOR NANKING OFFICIALS PRESENT

[From Our Own Correspondent]

Canton, To-day.

The remains of the late Mr. Hu Han-min were laid to rest to-day in a cemetery on the north-eastern outskirts of the city. Though a State burial was ordered, only two minor Nanking officials arrived to take part in the ceremony.

All high officials here were present at the grave when the coffin was lowered into its final resting place, and all flags were flying at half-mast to-day in reverence to the deceased Kwantung leader.

Several important Nanking leaders were designed to come South to be present at the State burial, but they are now busy in the capital thinking out plans to dissolve the South-west independent regime.

The late Mr. Hu was widely respected in local officialdom, as his presence here lent prestige and security to the South-west administration. His passing removed the main pillar of the South-west edifice.

STOP PRESS

Shanghai, To-day. — An increased number of armed patrols has been sent out by a special Japanese naval landing party to tour the districts of the Settlement thickly populated by the Japanese, put into effect yesterday following the Kayan murder. It is also announced that a landing party plans to establish new branch patrol offices in the eastern and western cotton-mill districts of the Settlement and also the Hongkew district.

The Chinese Settlement authorities, the Japanese military forces and diplomatic officials are sparing no effort to solve the murder. A love triangle is the latest theory delved into by the police, as the search for the motive of the slaying continues.

It is suggested that Kayan was interested in a Korean dancing-girl whose sweetheart plotted the attack owing to jealousy.

The Japanese marines guarding the scene of the murder have been withdrawn.

PRESIDENTIAL STRAW VOTE IN AMERICA

GOVERNOR LANDON FAVOURED BY ELECTORAL COLLEGE

New York, To-day. — Governor Alfred Landon would have been elected President by a majority of 13 Electoral College votes over President Roosevelt if the elections had been held yesterday, according to the results of a nation-wide straw vote conducted by the Institute of Public Opinion and published in the Herald Tribune. The poll, conducted between June 18 and July 6, shows that Mr. Landon gained 272 Electoral College votes and President Roosevelt 259.

Mr. Landon would have had an actual minority of the popular vote and would have carried only 21 of the 48 States, but those credited to him include New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois, the three States with the largest Electoral College representations.

DEATH FALL AT SCHOOL

Coroner On Risks Of Boys' Play

NO ONE TO BE BLAMED

Accidental death was the verdict at a Battersea inquest last month on Kenneth George Carter, an 11-year-old L.C.C. schoolboy, who died in hospital after a fall in the playground of Clapham Central School on May 26.

The inquest had been adjourned after a statement by his father, Mr. Stanley Carter, a dairyman, of Lyham-road, Brixton, that he had heard there had been foul play. According to Mr. Carter his son complained of a headache and said he had fallen while playing.

At the last hearing Mr. Carter gave evidence that his son did not blame anybody.

Thrown Down

The Coroner, Dr. Edwin Smith: Is there any support for the remark that there had been foul play? Did anyone strike him maliciously or venomously?—According to his two friends he was picked up and thrown down.

A doctor stated that the boy's skull was thin. Death was due to shock following injury consistent with a fall on the asphalt playground.

Montague Allan Barber, aged 12, of Ludlow-road, Clapham Park, said that while he and Carter were wrestling they fell over together.

The Coroner: Did you fling him down or punch him hard?—No. You really were pretending to fight, but not really fighting. You did not want to hurt him?—No.

The coroner said there were risks when boys were playing together. In this case there was nothing of a malicious nature.

He sympathised with the parents and with Barber. It was an accident for which nobody could be blamed.

"SAI SHEUNG"

"The Romance Of The Western Chamber"

SPECIAL TREAT FOR PLAYGOERS TO-MORROW

"Sai Sheung" or "The Romance of the Western Chamber" is a classical Chinese play written in 1271. It is a gem of Chinese literature and is considered by many to surpass "Lady Precious Stream" both in its plot and in the beauty of its songs and dialogue. Mr. S. I. Hsiung, the producer of "Lady Precious Stream," has written an English version of this play and it is understood that it will be staged in London in the near future.

Meanwhile, local theatre-goers will have the good fortune of seeing this play at the King's Theatre to-morrow at 9.30 p.m., when a Chinese theatrical performance will be held in aid of the funds of the Chinese Company of the Police Reserve. Mr. Sit Kok Sin, M.S.P. and Mrs. Sit, celebrated artists of the Chinese stage, will take the leading roles, supported by a well-known cast.

Cantonese Music

"The Western Chamber" has been in the repertoire of Mr. Sit Kok Sin for more than 10 years and he has won his fame largely through the portrayal of the part of the hero in this play.

Much of the poetry is sung to the music of Cantonese opera and the beauty of the songs should be apparent even to those ignorant of the Chinese language.

It is indeed rare that the public has an opportunity of seeing a real Chinese play in a theatre such as the King's, and no one should miss the performance to-morrow.

Advance booking is now open at the Headquarters of the Chinese Company of the Police Reserve at Pedder Bldg., 1st floor.

Special traffic arrangements have been made with the Police for chauffeur-driven cars to be parked on the east side of D'Aguilar Street and the north side of Wellington Street east of D'Aguilar Street, from 11 p.m. onwards, to wait for their owners.

"L" CAR ENDS IN BROOK

Four Injured In Motor Spill

Four persons were injured when a small four-seater saloon motor-car driven by a woman learner-driver ran off the road at Farm Hill, at the junction of Honey-lane, Waltham Abbey, Essex, last month, and overturned into a roadside brook.

All four were Czechoslovakians. The driver, Miss Sonie Dinermann, of Aberdare-gardens, Hampstead, N.W., and her companions were taken to Waltham Abbey War Memorial Hospital for first-aid treatment and afterwards were transferred to the Queen Mary's Hospital, Stratford.

Miss Dinermann and two men passengers were found to be suffering only superficial injuries, and were not detained. Miss N. Kleinberger, aged 23, of Stanly-gardens, Hampstead, was detained with a suspected fracture of the skull.

The men passengers were Mr. K. Locwarthel, of Fitzjohn's-avenue, Hampstead, and Dr. Kyse.

BOYS PUT ON PROBATION

Midnight Ride On Stolen Cycles

Three boys of 15, 16 and 17 years of age, who appeared at Edinburgh Sheriff's Court recently on five charges of house-breaking, were stated to have been caught by the police at 12.10 a.m. After being questioned, they were allowed to go. Later they stole bicycles and rode 30 miles to Biggar, where they slept on the roadside. Becoming hungry, they returned and replaced the bicycles.

The magistrate said that parents ought to see that their children were not wandering the streets at midnight. The boys were put on probation for 12 months.

DOCTOR'S MISSING WIFE FOUND

20 Miles Walk To A Station

DISAPPEARED FOR NINE DAYS

Mrs. Joan Margaret Jones, the young wife of an Ipswich doctor, who had been missing since June 4, was on June 13 reported to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rumsey, at Cambridge. Mr. Rumsey is a dental surgeon.

It had been feared that she was drowned while bathing at Bawdley, near Felixstowe, where her clothes were found on the beach.

On June 5 the Ipswich police asked local villagers to look for the body of a young woman dressed in a blue bathing costume.

A day after she disappeared her spaniel dog, "Pavelack," which had accompanied her, returned home wet as if it had been in the sea.

Medical Supervision

Mr. C. F. Rumsey, her father, said that "on information received that Mrs. Jones had been found in North London relatives went to London and she was brought to Cambridge. She is now under medical supervision with a nurse and doctor in attendance.

"Physically she is well except that her feet are very sore. The facts of what has really happened cannot be ascertained at present, but it is known that she walked 20 to 30 miles and spent most of the night of Thursday, June 4, at Ipswich station. She is believed to have then travelled to London by train. The events which followed are doubtful."

On hearing that his wife had been found Dr. Jones at once left Ipswich for Cambridge.

A Builder Who Was Afraid

Felt Giddy When On Ladders.

"For two years I suffered from nervous debility," states Mr. C. E. Newbery, of 27, Albany Road, New Malden, Surrey, England. "Being in the building trade I often have to climb high ladders, and I was afraid I should fall because of the attacks of giddiness from which I suffered. Frequently I had violent pains at the top of my head; on one occasion I fell unconscious in the street. I lost my appetite, could not sleep at night, and became very breathless."

"One day I read of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. Steadily but surely a marked change came over me. I began to sleep soundly; my appetite came back, and now after two months' treatment I am hale and hearty again and able to tackle my work without fear."

Health suffers when the blood lacks iron, so if you are a victim of nervous debility, neuritis, rheumatism, indigestion, premature ageing, or any other ailment due to poor blood, begin without delay to enrich your blood with iron. And the sure and tested way to get this iron is to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the old, reliable iron tonic.

The reason is this: these pills contain iron in a form easily assimilated by the blood, and create new, rich blood which brings with it new health, new vigour and strong nerves. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now; obtainable from chemists everywhere.

"SANDERS OF THE RIVER"—KING'S THEATRE

In a cast that abounds with striking personalities, one of the most interesting actors in "Sanders of the River," now showing at the King's Theatre, is Tony Wane who plays King Fofolaba.

Mofolaba is the most trouble-some of the chiefs under Sanders' jurisdiction, and the arch-enemy of Bosambo (Paul Robeson). Tony Wane, flaunting the full majesty of his war-paint, makes him terrifyingly real.

Tony is a huge, husky African, superb in physique, seventy-seven years of age. He is a relative of the great Zulu, King Cetewayo, and has his ancestry proudly tattooed on his mighty chest in blue letters.

Tony has a history as marvellous as any invented by such a writer as Edgar Wallace, who, incidentally, wrote the stories of "Sanders."

He was born into slavery. He lived for years in fear of the lash and without the rights of a human being, and yet he has the smile of a schoolboy. From Africa he was taken to the Southern States of America, and after many wanderings and jousts in the jungle, Tony came to London and settled there. That is why he speaks English so well.

Now he lives in London, and any day he can be seen in Petticoat Lane—that famous street market for motley merchandise—selling hair-restorer to bald-headed gentlemen who want their hair together. Tony sells them his own preparation called "Toto" which he claims he got from Nature and which is responsible for his own majestic forest of coal-black fuzzy-wuzzies.

A great character, and a great actor, He hopes "Sanders of the River" starts a cycle.

"ROAD GANG"—QUEEN'S THEATRE

Donald Woods has to trade punches with "Sailor" Vincent, former welterweight boxing champion of the United States Navy, in the First National picture, "Road Gang," showing at the Queen's Theatre to-day.

Both Woods and Vincent have the roles of convicts, and it is during an insurrection in the mines where the prisoners are working that the two come to blows.

Woods himself was ordered by the director to go after the "Sailor" with everything he has and as a result he throws himself heart and soul into his work, but the "Sailor" proves equal to the occasion and shows that he has not forgotten the art of blocking and timing.

"Road Gang" is a powerful drama which bares the terrible conditions in a penal institute run by crooked politicians for graft.

The picture also carries a glowing romance in which a beautiful girl battles to free the man she loves, whom she knows to be innocent of the crimes for which he has been convicted.

Key Linker has the role of the girl, while others in the cast include Carlyle Moore, jr., Henry O'Neill, Joseph King, Addison Richards and Joseph Crehan.

"LAST OF THE PAGANS"—ORIENTAL THEATRE

The haunting fascination of the South Seas; the idyllic lives of the natives; a stirring romance, played amid the thrills of primitive lives; these are the elements caught in this absorbing piece of entertainment, filmed on an uncharted coral lagoon in the Pacific.

The picture has nothing of the travelogue about it, though it shows in detail the intimate lives of the Polynesian natives. It is a gripping and romantic love story of a boy and a girl in the island paradise; of their separation through the work of rascally white traders, and their triumphant reunion.

Set against a tapestry of picturesque native dances, glorious tropic sunsets, blue lagoons and some of the most gorgeous scenic details ever photographed, John Villiers Farrow's story was deftly directed, with its native cast, by Richard Thorpe. There are thrills aplenty—the battle between the native hero and the wild boar, shark and swordfish hunting, and the terrific island typhoon, filmed at its height as it hurls palm trees down and razes island buildings. A cave-in in a potash mine provides another thrill. Delightful native music embellishes the saga of Polynesia.

Mala, the Eskimo actor, plays the stalwart hero of the new picture, providing a powerful dramatic performance and, proving himself one of the really romantic figures of the screen. Lotus Long plays the heroine. The rest of the interesting cast is made up of natives who literally live their lives before the camera. The white sailors and others impressed as actors prove themselves perfectly at home before camera and microphone.

"FRISCO KID"—STAR THEATRE

This picture is set in the colourful background of the early fifties when the waterfront at the Golden Gate was a flaming panorama of pleasure, when murder, arson, crimping and robbery was winked at by the authorities, who derived huge revenues in bribes from the denizens of the underworld.

The characters are based on historic personages of the time who flocked to the city of gold from every port in the world, adventurers all, ready to risk their fortunes or their lives on the throw of a die.

Into this picturesque atmosphere comes a sailor, strong, purposeful, crude, ignorant, but a man of tremendous force and magnetic personality who rises to be the master of the Coast, and who dares to fall in love with the most beautiful girl of San Francisco's highest society.

James Cagney and Margaret Lindsay, as the two characters, carry on this strange romance in the midst of a series of thrilling episodes when the city is rocked by terrific battles between the vigilantes and the denizens of the coast.

The leading characters, besides these, include Ricardo Cortez, Donald Woods, Barton MacLane, George E. Stone, Joseph King, Robert McWade, Joseph Crehan, Joseph Sawyer, Fred Kohler and Claudia Coleman.

"SHOW THEM NO MERCY"—MAJESTIC THEATRE

Violence, intense emotional drama, spontaneous humour and romance are tightly packed in the speedy sequences of this new picture which reveals the new underworld terror and America's fight to wipe it out.

The plot of "Show Them No Mercy!" carries Rochelle Hudson and Edward Norris, two innocent young people, with their baby, into the hideout of the gang. The criminals have $200,000 in "hot money" and are waiting for the hue and cry to die down.

Panicky, afraid that the youngsters will disclose their refuge, the gangsters are all for putting them out of the way.

Through a series of exciting scenes, the picture reveals how the well-laid plans of the Department of Justice draws the net tighter and tighter about them, until the mobsters flee, leaving one of their number behind.

In a smashing climax, Cesar Romero and Bruce Cabot, leaders of the gang, decide to shoot Miss Hudson and Norris. But a daring ruse on the part of the two intended victims gives them the upper hand just as the federal men arrive on the scene.

The author of "Show Them No Mercy!" is Kubec Glasmon, whose "Public Enemy" first apprised motion picture audiences of the force of gangland's terror.

George Marshall, famous as Will Roger's director, handled the direction of the picture. Prominent in the supporting cast are Warren Hymer and Edward Brophy.

BRIDGE NOTES

"Grudge" Bridge Game

By Ely Culbertson

Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee and reporter for a "grudge" bridge game. By general agreement he fines the players for their errors according to degree of stupidity. Class A errors cost them $1; class B, $2.50; class C, $5; class D, $10. This is the fourth hand in the series.

"Well," said West cheerfully, "this isn't a bad idea at all! I've had rotten cards and should be a considerable loser. But actually I've paid only one minimum fine and now have a 25 per cent. equity in an $19 kitty."

"Bitter do your gloating now," growled South. "Your turn will come!"

As it happened, the next hand fulfilled the prophecy.

Participants will be required to pay an entrance fee of $1 and a monthly subscription of 50 cents towards a special fund, out of which financial support will be available for members out of employment, as well as the provision of free medical advice and the advancing of loans to enable driving licences to be acquired and changed. You actually could see four diamond and two heart tricks, and certainly there was a poor chance, considering the bidding, that East could stop the club suit. You should have abandoned the hearts as a hopeless proposition and shifted to a low spade. Your one hope was for East to hold the king.

"Why couldn't East have led a spade after he won the king of hearts?" asked West defensively.

"Because he couldn't be sure about the heart situation." You might hold five to the queen-ten, with one entry. In that case it would be vital for him to return the heart lead."

"Come on," growled South. "Pay up—don't try to crawl out of it! And next time maybe you'll do your gloating inwardly!"

REMARKABLE BASEBALL WIN FOR JAPANESE

Make Sensational Comeback

AMERICANS' COLLAPSE

(By "INFIELD")

Another good League Baseball encounter was witnessed at Causeway Bay yesterday, when the Americans surprisingly allowed the Japanese Young Men's Association to stage a spectacular comeback and turn defeat into a 8-7 victory in the most dramatic manner.

Hard hitting by the Americans enabled them to obtain a comfortable lead in the first six innings and there were few who thought the Japanese would win, but when Thompson showed signs of tiring and later when he was relieved, the Japanese rallied and discounted a four run deficit in the last two innings.

The game on the whole was of a high standard. Mikuni was more successful than Thompson as a pitcher, but he was not at his best and the Americans scored 13 hits off him.

"I WILL BE CHAMPION IN OCTOBER"

Braddock Confident Of Beating Schmeling

(By "LEIGHTON")

London, July 2. "I shall still be champion in October." This was the simple comment of James J. Braddock, world's heavy-weight boxing champion, when asked to sum up his prospects in his title fight with Max Schmeling, conqueror of Joe Louis, which is to take place in the United States next September.

"Schmeling has nerve and a terrific right punch," added Braddock, "but he will need more than that to win the championship. What I saw in him was a fighter who at 30 is not too good."

League Baseball Match Fiasco

LOSERS MUST FIND A PITCHER

The Volunteers routed the Canadians in their League Baseball encounter at Causeway Bay yesterday when they won by the record score of 30 runs to 2, the game being featured by hard hitting by the Corps and by numerous fielding errors on the part of the Canadians.

The Canadians are badly in need of a pitcher and yesterday tried no less than four men without any measure of success. Muir started the pitching, but the Volunteers hit him about so badly that before the first innings was over Alltree was obliged to relieve him.

AGA KHAN MAY RACE IN AUSTRALIA

Federal Authorities' Objections

London, July 6.

R.H. the Aga Khan may race his horses in Australia if the Federal authorities at Sydney can be persuaded to waive their objection to horses being brought from India to appear in Australia.

Every effort is being made to have this regulation removed. A. Higgins, the well-known Australian trainer, said that not only the Aga Khan, but Prince Ali Khan and many other notable racehorse owners in India would be interested in such a venture.

Mr. Higgins referred to the absurdity of the present regulation whereby a horse in India could be sent back to England and then re-exported to Australia.

At the moment racehorses in India are compelled to remain idle from March to November, but if they could go to Australia to race they would give a fillip to winter racing in Australia and could then return for the season at home.

After Tony Manero, North Carolina professional, astounded the golfing world with his record-breaking round of 67 to total a record 282 in the American Open at Baltusrol Country Club, Springfield, New Jersey, last month, he received a good old-fashioned kiss from Mrs. Manero over the top of the victory cup.

Track Ace From I.R.C.

A. RAHMİN was educated at St. Joseph's College and from his very earliest school days showed a keen aptitude for all forms of sport. He played football — on the left wing — for the College team which won the Junior League Championship in 1918 — it is interesting to note that this team were runners-up to the Police in the Shield competition the same year, while he was captain of the College eleven for three years in succession.

Our personality is perhaps best known as a sprinter and jumper, as, after winning the College championship for three years consecutively, he crowned his achievements by winning the 220 Yards championship of the Colony in 1919 at the Lusitano Sports, and the 100 Yards championship at the V.R.C. sports, his times for these races being 22 1/5 secs. and 10 1/6 secs. respectively.

He is also a very useful swimmer and was a member of his College team which won the Coronation Shield for two years. He also took part at the Victoria Recreation Club night fetes with considerable success.

Of recent years Rahmin has devoted his time to cricket and tennis and is regarded as one of the fastest men in the field in the Indian Recreation Club. He played cricket for their premier eleven for a few seasons, while he has also turned out for the junior team. He is captaining their "C" team this summer — for the second season in succession — in the Tennis League and is also a member of the committee of the Sookumpoo Club.

AUSTRALIA HAS HIGH HOPES FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

Athletes Well On The Mark

NEW SWIMMING MARKS ESTABLISHED

Adelaide, July 5.

Australian hopes for success in the Berlin Olympiad in August were brightened by the splendid performances of several athletes in the Third National Games here. A feature of the opening of the games was the arrival at the Adelaide Oval of a team of relay runners which carried lighted torches on a severe endurance race from Melbourne—a distance of 500 miles—to bring messages of good will to South Australia.

Heralded by a fanfare of trumpets, the words of Baron de Coubertin were unveiled on the big cricket score board for every competitor to remember: "The important thing in the Olympic Games is not win, but to take part. The essential thing is not to conquer, but to fight well." The Olympic hymn was then sung and 1,000 pigeons were released from the centre of the oval.

Clare Dennis, Olympic swimming champion and record holder, then made the declaration of amateurism in the following words: "We declare that we will take part in the National Games in loyal competition respecting the regulations which govern them, and desirous of participating in them in more able partner for von Cramm."

HENKEL DISPLAYS GREAT IMPROVEMENT

GERMANY DISCOVERS NEWCOMER

Berlin, Germany, July 5.

HIGH hopes of planting the Nazi flag on top of the tennis hillock this year have received a dash of cold water. Gottfried von Cramm, the best of Germany's tennis playing barons and Wimbledon finalist the last two years, hasn't hit the stride that made Nazi tennis enthusiasts believe that the big Davis Cup would come to Germany this year.

Von Cramm was defeated by Fred Perry, of England, at Wimbledon last Friday for the All-England championship. The scores were 6-1, 6-1, 6-0. The German ace tore a muscle in his thigh on the first service. Perry suggested that they stop and von Cramm have the member massaged, but the Baron decided to continue the play saying, "it would be no use now." Perry smashed only twice during the match, not wishing to take any advantage over his injured adversary.

Von Cramm's refined salon style has been there in matches played so far this year, but results have been somewhat disappointing to his followers. Unknown players have forced him to the limit and the Spaniard Enrique Maier made him lower his colours in the Davis Cup elimination round in Barcelona by 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

A Czechoslovak newcomer to the annual Berlin championships at the Red-White club named Stingl took a set from the master at 6-3 and von Cramm's team-mate Henner Henkel pushed him to five sets in the Red-White final.

No Flake

As a matter of fact, von Cramm has been dropping sets regularly and Berlin's tennis experts have had to conclude that Maier's victory was no fluke.

Two reasons are advanced for this. One is that the German champion may have reached his peak last year, and the other is that he has become listless since his father's recent death. At any rate, von Cramm says he is a bit tired of tennis.

Before the season got well under way, the Germans had it doped out this way: "Clear sailing through the European zone, rough weather through the winter of the American zone, but nevertheless safe arrival at port. Then trouble with the cup holders England, but a good chance to wrest the trophy from Fred Perry's grasp."

Henkel Improves

While von Cramm has been disappointing and the doubles combination of Cramm and Kaj Lund took a sound beating at the hands of the New Zealanders, Malfroy and Stedman, in the Red-White tourney, Henkel has been on the upgrade. His form so far has stamped him as a more able partner for von Cramm.

After training around the Baltusrol golf course in a grueling tune-up game for the American Open last month, Gene Sarazen is here shown taking it easy at Short Hills, New Jersey.

Dorothy Forbes, aged 15, a Camden, New Jersey, high school girl, is reported to be breaking women's swimming records right and left at Clementon Lake, New Jersey. She aspires to a place on the United States Olympic swimming team, with her Back-Stroke record of 32.8 for 50 Yards.

TO-DAY'S LAWN BOWLS

U.S.R.C. SHOULD WIN DESPITE LOSSES

The most important fixture in the Mixed Doubles Lawn Tennis League for the Dunlop Shield will take place this afternoon, weather permitting, when the Chinese Recreation Club, the holders, clash with the United Services Recreation Club, former holders and their strongest challengers.

The Chinese are experiencing difficulty at the moment in finding their lady partners, and W. C. Hung, the captain of the team, said last Saturday he was very doubtful of being able to field a side at all!

Mrs. J. F. F. Kayll, one of the U.S.R.C.'s former players and former holder of the Colony Ladies' Singles title, left for England on Saturday, while Mrs. W. E. B. Dowling will be an absentee throughout the season, but the U.S.R.C. should win to-day.

In the remaining match, Club de Recreio clash with Kowloon Cricket Club "B" and an evenly contested clash should result with the odds in favour of the latter team, despite the fact they will be playing away from home.

PERCY ALLISS' RECORD ROUND OF 69 AT AYR

GREAT DRIVING IN SCOTTISH OPEN LEADS FAIRWEATHER & ADAMS BY A SHOT

CURTAIN RAISER TO BRITISH OPEN

(By GEORGE GREENWOOD)

Ayr, June 16.

MOST of the famous players are taking part in the Penfold Scottish Open Tournament, which was begun on the Belleisle course here today. The tournament, for which the prize money amounts to £750, is in the nature of a curtain-raiser to the British Open Championship at Hoylake next week.

At the end of the first round Percy Alliss, who had never previously seen the course, led the field with a 69, a score which established a new record. The previously best was a 71 by J. B. Stevenson, a well-known West of Scotland amateur. A stroke behind Alliss are two Scottish internationals, J. Adams, of Romford, and S. Fairweather, of Malone, Belfast, each with 70.

Alliss won the event at Gleneagles last year with the amazingly low score of 273. Another round will be played to-morrow, and the 60 leading competitors will then play the final 36 of 72 holes on Wednesday. Because it is of the park variety, and well wooded, Belleisle, in the heart of the Burns country, is different from any of the other 17 first-class courses, including two championship links, Prestwick and Troon, in a stretch of 10 miles of coast on the Firth of Clyde.

Belleisle sets a high premium on straight driving, which is as it should be. If the drive is off the fairway, you are up to your knees in rough of the worst kind. The best and most economical plan is to sink your pride and get back on to the course with the least possible delay.

Only Once In Rough

As one of the world's straightest drivers, Alliss reaped a just reward. It is a testimony to the accuracy of Alliss' driving that he was in the rough only once. He paid the appropriate penalty.

Alliss had a 3 at each of the five short holes and 4's at all the others except the sixth, a blind dog-legged hole, where the drive was hooked into long grass, and at the eleventh, where the second shot, mis-judged through lack of local knowledge, dived into a concealed bunker at the back of the green. These two holes produced the only fives of the round.

Of the many glorious iron shots played by Alliss two were of outstanding merit. One was at the second and the other at the

DA ROZA BROTHERS IN LIMELIGHT

Securing wins in the Three Style Relay, the Diving and the Water-polo championships, the Corps Infantry won the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps' Inter-Unit Challenge Cup last Saturday night, securing 15 points against 10 by their nearest rivals, the Static Machine Guns, with whom they shared the spoils last year.

E. B. da Roza, formerly one of the fastest men in the Colony over the 50 Yards Free Style, made a re-appearance after an absence of nearly two seasons and together with his younger brother, A. A. da Roza, played an important part in the Corps Infantry's success. E. M. Marques was also in the limelight, his fine spurt in the 25 Yards Breast-Stroke during the Three Style Relay turning the tables on the Static Machine Guns, who had hitherto led.

The gala was witnessed by a large gathering of spectators, who were given a really first class entertainment. The finishes in nearly all the events, and in particular the relay races, were very close. The Statics missed G. Fowler and E. B. Wood, who are both on Home leave, otherwise they might have carried off the Inter-Unit trophy.

THE RESULTS

Results were:—

300 Yards Team Race. (Teams of 6 each man to swim 50 Yards).
1. Static Machine Guns (3)—S. V. Gittins, F. Anslow, R. Sommers, C. Sloan, N. Lee, H. Wing Lee.
2. Corps Infantry (1)—A. A. da Roza, E. B. da Roza, G. Souza, L. A. Soares, E. Souza, E. M. Marques.
3. Coast Defence Units (4)—E. H. Ismail, Leppard, Millington, Bux.

Tollervey's Speedy Advance
H. TOLLERVEY, who is playing bowls for the Craigengower Cricket Club in the junior division of the League, did not know how the game was played till he arrived in the Colony early in the year. He has, however, shown amazing progress in a very short period.

C.C.C. Second Eleven Loss
F. K. MODI, a member of the Craigengower Cricket Club "B" team in the senior division of the lawn bowls League, plans going home to India for a holiday late in the year. He will, therefore, be missed by the C.C.C. junior cricket team, for whom he has played regularly for many seasons.

Lady Southern's Gratitude
LADY Bella Southern, wife of His Excellency Sir Thomas Southern, Governor of the Gold Coast, has written to the Committee and Members of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club thanking them for the bouquet of flowers sent on board at her departure for Home, and for the kindness extended to both her and Sir Thomas during their honorary membership of the Club.

Radio Hockey Reverse
THE Radio Sports Club, champions of the Marnak Hockey Tournament, will be losing at least three of their leading players next season when Gurbachan Singh, the triple Colony Importer, J. S. Grewal, Karnail Singh and several others go on leave to India.

CLOSE OF PLAY CRICKET

London, To-day.—The following were the close of play cricket scores on Saturday:—

All-India beat Ireland by 10 wickets at Dublin.

Ireland 161 and 119 (C. K. Naidu 7 for 44).

All-India 150 (Boucher 6 for 30) and 131 for 0 (Merchant 71 not out).

Leicester 94 (Mercer 6 for 42) v Glamorgan 34 for 0 at Swansea.—Renter.

One of the most interested spectators at the Haynes-Carnera battle in which Da Preem was cut down by the Negro, was Gene Tunney, above, retired heavy weight champion of the world. The camera caught Gene in a tense moment.

Gough's Bowls Progress

G. GOUGH, the Police soccer player, has made splendid progress since he took up lawn bowls, for not only is he a regular member of the Police team but he recently beat W. McKay, a First Division player, by 22 shots to 10 in the Singles Championship of the Club.

Bower Beats Strange

A. BOWER did well to eliminate C. Strange in the Civil Service Cricket Club singles championship recently in view of the fact that he has only recently taken up the game.

Bowls Tuition Counts

F. H. WILKINSON, of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, apparently benefitted by the tuition in bowls he received from C. B. Hosking, the Hon. Secretary of the Lawn Bowls Association, as he won a spoon in the weekly Wapinschaw competition of the Football Club.

E. B. A. Setback

THE Lawn Bowls Association will be losing a valuable worker when C. B. Hosking, the Hon. Secretary, leaves for Home at the end of this month. It is largely due to his hard work that the many competitions controlled by the Association are so smoothly run.

Civil Servants Lose No. 1

THOUGH it is still five weeks before he will go away on leave, H. Major, the Civil Service Cricket Club lawn bowler has "packed up" and will not be seen in the League for the C.S.C.C. again this season. This is a great pity, for under the tuition of Arthur Grimmett, Major has developed into one of the best No. 1's the Club has had for a long time.

Basket Away On Holiday

P. E. BASKETT, who is one of the keenest followers of cricket in the Colony and who has been the official umpire for Hong Kong in the last two or three inter-ports against Shanghai in the Colony, has gone away for a holiday to Shanghai and Japan following a bout of illness.

DURING the Whitsun holidays Donald Anderson and Alberto Rodrigues, two former cricket captains of the Hong Kong University, travelled from London to Belgium with a team of enthusiasts, composed mainly of Inns of Court cricketers, to play the English colony in that country.

Two keen and enjoyable matches were played at Antwerp and Brussels, respectively, in which honours were easily won by the Hong Kong cricketers, who scored a century. Rodrigues left Hong Kong recently to do post-graduate work in London.

The Future Conquest Of Everest

Everest has triumphed once more over the intrepid men who have sought to scale the mountain's ultimate heights. Yet even as Mr. Hugh Rutledge and his companions admit defeat and turn for the descent they look forward to some future effort that may be helped by their labours. In a break in the storms of the monsoon they have had a vision of conditions on the west side of the North Col. Though ascent by that route has hitherto been regarded as impracticable they express their belief after this reconnaissance that in certain conditions climbing the west side would be safer and more direct. Their discovery may be of value for a future occasion. By it men will be tempted to try again. This year, as Mr. Rutledge's message said, further effort is useless, but the way has possibly been found to future conquest.

Faith that the highest mountain of the world will yet be climbed will not die. The present expedition, unique in the past experience of its members, in the perfection of its equipment, and in the number of its trained porters, had been unfortunate beyond all its predecessors in the matter of weather. Since the fourth camp, 24,000 feet up, was reached, the climbers had been turned back and thwarted in renewed advances by cyclonic winds, heavy snowfalls and the crashing avalanches that accompany such conditions. Reluctant to be baffled they took hazardous risks after the early break of the monsoon discounted all likelihood of success. As in another connection, we may say "the men were splendid," but human power struggles in vain against the higher Himalayas when Nature is in turbulent mood.

To conquer Everest is one of the very few great adventures still left to man. There must be sympathy with Mr. Rutledge, who has organised two attempts, and with the climbers who had hoped to make the final assault. Yet they can feel that, though they never reached the higher and most formidable slopes, the preliminary work done by Mr. Eric Ship-ton's party last year has added much to knowledge of the lower Himalayan peaks. No effort can be held to be wasted that builds up little by little the experience that will enable some future party to set foot on the highest point of all. That will not be done until the demons that guard the mountain, as the Tibetans believe, are in more favouring mood than they have been this year.

Empire Unity

How is the British Commonwealth of Nations to maintain unity of purpose and harmony of action now that each of its six Member States has legal sovereignty and a completely autonomous Government? The Secretary for the Dominions, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, did wisely to state that problem at the Empire Press Union meeting last month. In the circumstances of the time it is of urgent importance to every subject of the British Crown. There is significant proof to hand. The visit to England of Mr. Pirow, the South African Minister for Defence, must be interpreted as implying recognition in his Dominion—and none has claimed more clearly its sovereign authority—that the defence of the Empire

Through Profanity To Charity

THE Archbrotherhood of Mercy in Florence was founded in 1240 by Pier Lucca, head of the porters and carriers' union. The initial funds of the organisation were procured by levying fines for swearing or profanity of the porters. The original purpose of the fraternity was the transportation of plague victims to and from hospitals, as well as burial of abandoned corpses. They have often, in history, incurred the enmity of tyrants and despots, but they have flourished, and survive to the present day. They still wear the hood and shoulder pad of the ancient porters, but now their membership is recruited from among the highest Italian nobility, including the King and Crown Prince of Italy. They are the only society in Italy permitted to appear masked in public.

The House Built Under An Umbrella

THE finished 8-room house located at 11,166 Sunset Boulevard, Westwood Hills, Los Angeles, was under an umbrella all the time it was under construction. The purposes of this huge umbrella, 100 x 104 feet in size, was to accelerate building operations through the rainy season, since the contract insured completion of the house in 45 days instead of the usual 120. During the first two weeks of February, more than 6 inches of rain fell in Los Angeles, and building operations were at a standstill on every house except "The Umbrella House."

COOK-BOY TURNS THIEF

EUROPEAN LADY VICTIMISED

Mrs. J. Russell, of No. 8, Tak Shing Street, appeared as complainant at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on Saturday when Leung Wan-yau, formerly employed by her as cook-boy, was charged with (a) larceny by servant of two platinum and diamond rings, the property of complainant, between June 20 and July 9 this year, (b) illegal pawning of two platinum and diamond rings between June 21 and July 3, and (c) larceny by servant of $8 between June 1 and July 9.

Defendant pleaded guilty to all the charges.

The rings were pawned at various times by the defendant, who used the proceeds to gamble at Shum Chun.

Asked by the Magistrate if he could raise any money, defendant said he hoped to draw a "win" (lottery) on July 15 but it was purely a question of luck and he was not at all certain that he would draw the lucky number.

The prosecuting officer remarked that it was very hard luck on the complainant, as she would have to pay a large sum to get her own property back out of pawn.

The Magistrate thought that further efforts should be made to raise some of the money, and remanded defendant for one week to enable him to do so.

needs co-ordination.

To unite self-governing States in common policy and action is, as regards constitutional machinery, not an easy task. Mr. MacDonald did not profess to see his way to its accomplishment. He asked the peoples of the Empire to do a great deal of hard thinking on new practices and new forms. It must be remarked that the period since the war, in which the Dominions have, as he put it, "gained their national freedom," has also seen the building up of much closer economic co-operation. The change which was made by the Statute of Westminster was the legal recognition of a status which had long existed in fact. Before it, as well as after it, unity of Imperial action was only possible by the free will of unity of spirit. In the economic field forms and practices have grown up under that impulse. The same force will operate to give the Empire political machinery.

CORONATIONS THEN AND NOW
The Coronation affects neither the status nor the powers of the King. He succeeds at the moment of his father's death.

The length of time which elapses nowadays between the death of a Sovereign and his successor's coronation is governed purely by such considerations as Court mourning and the period required to make all the arrangements for a great pageant of state.

In the Middle Ages the Coronation was more important. The first step of the heir of an English King was to secure the Royal Hoard—in Norman times kept at Winchester. The next was to get hold of the Archbishops to secure the Church's blessing on his accession.

These two precautions provided him with both the financial and the moral means of discouraging rivals.

HERALDIC COINCIDENCE

Mr. Archibald Russell, Lancaster Herald, who read the Coronation Proclamation last month at Charing Cross, did so at the foot of the statue of Charles I, a spot which had for him both genealogical and chronological associations.

The blood of Charles I. runs in his veins. His mother's grandmother was, before her marriage to Sir Peregrine Maitland, who commanded the Greys at Waterloo, Lady Sarah Lennox, daughter of the 4th Duke of Richmond, who gave the famous Waterloo Ball.

The first Duke of Richmond was the son of Charles II. Last month the descendant of Charles II. proclaimed the date of the Coronation of Edward VIII. on the anniversary of Charles II's Restoration.

FORMER "MESSIAHS" OF ENGLAND PROBLEM OF RELIGIOUS DELUSIONS

MEN AND WOMEN WHO THOUGHT THEMSELVES DIVINE

(By Dean Matthews)

ONE of the most fascinating byways of historical study is that of the queer little sects, and the pretended prophets who have provided them, which have been so numerous in England and America.

It is a sad and rather disturbing sphere of research, because it brings us into contact with men and women who were themselves the victims of the most fantastic delusions, and even more because it illustrates the way in which the lives of honest, and not always stupid, people may be spoiled and wasted by falling under the spell of what our forefathers would have bluntly called "false prophets."

Mr. Ronald Matthews, who, so far as I know, is no relation of mine, has written a book "English Messiahs," which anyone would find amusing reading, and which must be of quite exceptional interest to those who care for the religious history of this country.

To me it seems specially valuable because it is written by a man who has evidently a good knowledge of psychology and is not content to dismiss the unfortunate persons of whom he writes as "madmen" or "impostors." He makes us sympathise with them, and even in some cases love them.

Astonishing Set
Many will be surprised to learn that at least six English "Messiahs" have made sufficient stir in the world to be of some historical importance.

What an astonishing set of people they are! The most attractive of them is the earliest in date, the Quaker, James Nayler. In the time of the Commonwealth this printer, who had turned Quaker missionary, gathered a following, consisting chiefly of women, and marched into Bristol in circumstances which plainly suggested that he was imitating the entry of Christ into Jerusalem.

A synonym?
"A synonym," said Tommy wisely, "is a word you use when you can't spell the other one."

The ecstatic women who accompanied him, shouted "Holy, Holy, Holy" before him as he rode on a horse into the city. The story of his trial for "blasphemy" before Parliament and of his savage punishment is a tragic one. The intolerance and cruelty of some of the Puritan members make us wonder whether they were not suffering from religious delusions not less pernicious than Nayler's.

The culprit was reasonable, courteous and gentle. No doubt Mr. Matthews is right in thinking that he was largely the victim of the enthusiasm of his followers, who suggested ideas to him which his mind was not strong enough to repudiate. When he was released from prison, a broken man, he renounced his delusion, and became once more a very worthy Quaker. He is a striking example of the danger to a religious teacher of listening to the voices of adulation.

Joanna Southcott
Joanna Southcott, the servant girl of Exeter, who turned prophetess, still has her followers, and there are people to-day who agitate for the opening of her mysterious box, which can be done only by 24 bishops. She seems to have been a simple and harmless creature, who suffered at the end of her life from the delusion that she was to give birth to the new Messiah. She had a capacity for turning out doggerel verse which must be unrivalled.

Richard Brothers, the Prince of the Hebrews, and John Nichols Tom, the "peasants' saviour," are less attractive figures, though their story has pathos and tragedy enough. The last of the English messiahs, J. H. Smyth-Pigott, died as recently as 1927, and the sensation caused by his claims is well remembered.

Human Stories
Human stories, such as those which Mr. Matthews has collected, raise many questions. He gives us his own explanation of the phenomena, which is, so far as it goes, illuminating. He relies (Continued on Page 10)

EMPIRE CLOCK IN WINCHESTER COLLEGE WALL

Erected On Part Of Original Building
BRITISH OVERSEAS LANDS SHOWN IN SYMBOLS

Winchester. — A unique and beautiful clock has been erected on one of the old flint walls of William of Wykeham's building, now in the library of Winchester College.

This is the empire clock, the works of which have been designed and made by Mr. Henry Baker and Mr. Robert Stewart. The decoration of the clock face and surrounding stonework is by Sir Herbert Baker, the architect.

Inner And Outer Dials
There are two dials, an inner one which tells the time in two periods of 12 hours, and an outer one which revolves once in the 24 hours. The numerals for the outer dial are carved on the stonework outside the rim. On the outer dial are symbols showing the time at Greenwich and the time in the dominions. Where countries like the Sudan and East and West African colonies are close to the longitude of Greenwich, symbols for these have been omitted.

Starting with Great Britain, the Greenwich symbol is the lion. South Africa, two hours earlier, has its winged springbok. The Indian Ocean is given an early Arab ship, followed 5½ hours ahead of Greenwich by the Great Star of India. Another hour on comes the peacock feather of Burma with the letter "B", and then Singapore with its harbour denoted by an anchor and an "S".

Dominion Symbols
Australia, eight to 10 hours ahead, is designated by wattle leaves over the Southern Cross, and New Zealand by the Southern Cross alone. Following these is the antipodean line where midday at Greenwich is midnight.

The landless expanse of the Pacific is shown by a three-masted ship. Then comes Canada with five time zones and her maple leaves, on which can be discerned the Welsh leek, the Irish shamrock, the Scottish thistle, the English rose, and the French fleur-de-lis. A fish symbolises Newfoundland, and a two-masted ship the Atlantic Ocean.

Stainless steel has largely been used in the construction of the clock. A lever makes the necessary alteration for summer time on the 12-hour clock without affecting the 24-hour dial.

5,000 VOLTS FAIL TO KILL CAT

Electric Trap Leads To Cruelty Charge

John Harold Atkins, aged 48, of Middle Vauxhall, Wolverhampton, was fined £3, with 5s. costs, at Wolverhampton police court recently for cruelty to a cat.

It was stated that a woman neighbour saw the cat lying on the garden fence, struggling and apparently in great pain. In its mouth was a piece of gristle attached to a wire which hung on a wooden frame. When a detective visited the premises the cat had apparently recovered.

Det.-Insp. Pendered said that a wire ran from a meter in Atkins's house through a garage, where was a transformer which increased the voltage from 220 to 5,000 volts. When the cat seized the gristle Atkins switched on the current.

Atkins said the cat in the neighbourhood had become a pest.

MACLEAN CHIEF CELEBRATES HIS 101ST BIRTHDAY

30,000 Clansmen Join In Good Wishes

SMALL FAMILY GATHERING AT DUART CASTLE

Over 30,000 Macleans throughout the world joined in good wishes to Sir Fitz Roy Maclean, Chief of their clan, who celebrated his 101st birthday on May 18.

A small family gathering arrived to extend personal congratulations to Sir Fitz Roy at Duart Castle — the former seat of the ancient clan, which was acquired and restored by him in 1911.

It was nearly a century ago that Sir Fitz Roy first saw Duart Castle, during a yachting cruise with his father along the Western coast of Scotland and past the Castle's ruins on the rugged shore of the Island to Mull.

Restoration
So fired was he by his father's stories of the doings and deeds and prowess of the clan that he made a vow that one day he would regain the old Castle and restore it to its former glory.

The heir to the Chieftainship, Mr. Charles Fitz Roy Maclean, Sir Fitz Roy's grandson, who has been on a tour of the British Empire, has just arrived back from Australia, and he, along with Captain Charles Lachla Maclean, R. N., the Chief's only surviving son, and Brigadier-General and Mr. Marshall (son-in-law and daughter) has arrived at Duart Castle.

Last Year's Celebration
Last year when Sir Fitz Roy celebrated his 100th birthday, there was a great gathering of members of the clan in the banquet hall of the Castle to "toast" their venerable chief.

Sir Fitz Roy was unable in person to welcome the clansfolk who had come from all parts of the world, but he received a loyal address bearing four thousand signatures, presented on behalf of the clan by the Hon. Mrs. Mclean of Ardour.

Sir Fitz Roy is 26th hereditary Chief of the Clan Maclean, and is one of the very few survivors of the Crimean War.

When he was 17 his commission in the 13th Hussars was signed by the Duke of Wellington. The founder of the Clan Maclean was Gilleanna Tuisaigh ("Gilleann of the Battle Axe") whose grandson fought at Bannockburn. For centuries the Macleans have been great warriors.

CHELSEA TEAM IN CAR SMASH

Girl Driver Off-Side

A car smash in which the Chelsea football team were involved was the subject of a case recently at Kingston, Surrey.

Miss Mabel Lawson, of Maiden Vale, London, was fined £2, and disqualified from driving again until she had passed the driving test. A summons for dangerous driving was dismissed.

On March 21, it was stated, Miss Lawson was driving on the Kingston by-pass, when her car went to the off-side and turned round.

The car which was following also went to the off-side and was involved in a collision with an approaching motor-coach in which the Chelsea football team were travelling.

Sir Stanley Machin, the chairman of the Bench, said, "We feel that Miss Lawson for some reason or other had her attention elsewhere, and her experience of driving was such that she could not control her car with safety."

ISLE OF MAN TEA TAX

A tax of two-pence per pound on tea was passed recently by the Manx Legislature on the grounds that financial reserves would be needed to meet the loss of seasonal revenue if war broke out.

YOUNG SOLDIER SENTENCED FOR KILLING SISTER

Maddened By Family Dissensions

INTENDED TO KILL FATHER AND HIMSELF

Herbert Smith, 18, a private in the Northamptonshire Regiment, was found guilty last month at Lincolnshire Assizes of murdering his sister Dorothy, aged 25. Mr. Justice Hawke sentenced him to death. The jury added to their verdict a strong recommendation to mercy.

It was alleged by the prosecution that Smith shot his sister on Sunday, April 19, near her home at Fleet Fen, Holbeach, as she was cycling to chapel with her fiancé. He afterwards shot at his father, who was sitting at home, and inflicted severe wounds on him.

The accused youth gave evidence at his trial. He said: "I

BRITISH CHAMPION JOCKEY FINED FOR SPEEDING

Licence Not Endorsed

Gordon Richards, the champion jockey, was at Peterborough (Wills) police court recently fined 10s. for exceeding the speed limit in a restricted area. A constable said that Richards did 45-46 miles an hour, and admitted it when stopped.

Richards's licence was not endorsed because he had a "clean" one over a long period.

never intended to do any harm to Dorothy, and I never told anybody that I would.

Blamed His Father
"On January 13 I injured my foot, and while in hospital I thought a good deal about my home. It nearly drove me mad. I made up my mind to shoot my father and myself."

Mr. P. E. Sandlands, K. C. (defending): Why did you come to that conclusion? — Because I blame my father for my mother's death. Had you any intention or desire to hurt your sister with that gun? — No.

Why were you looking out of the window? — I did not want my sister to see me. I wanted her to leave the house before I moved.

"When I got on the roadway," Smith continued, "I saw my sister and Drakard (her fiancé). I thought I would frighten her, and I was going to fire over her head. After pulling the trigger I next remember running down the road."

Mr. Sandlands: What did you intend to do then?

Mr. Justice Hawke: I don't think he is bound to answer that unless he wishes to do so.

Smith: I was going to shoot my father.

Questioned about the statement he made, "I am glad she is dead," Smith said he was then thinking of his mother.

QUINTUPLETS AS FILM-STARS COMMAND HIGH FIGURE

Darryl Zanuck is said to have paid £10,000 to the Dionne trust fund for the privilege of using the quintuplets in "The Country Doctor."

Dr. Alington's Daughter To Marry Cricketer-Peer

Second daughter of a famous Eton head, Miss Elizabeth Alington is to marry Lord Dunglass, heir to the ancient earldom of Home, and famous Eton cricketer.

Lord Dunglass is 32, and met his prospective bride when he was a schoolboy.

Dr. Alington is now Dean of Durham.

Lord Dunglass is the eldest son of the Earl and Countess of Home, and has been Conservative M.P. for Lanark since 1931.

He played for Eton, and had trials for Oxford University and Middlesex.

Mrs. William B. Bankhead, above, pictured in her home at Washington, is doubly proud since the elevation of her husband to the Speakership of the House. She launched her famous daughter, Tallulah Bankhead, on her stage and screen career.

ANCIENT RITUAL AND PAGEANTRY COLOURFUL SCENES AT THE CORONATION NEW STATUS OF DOMINIONS

When King Edward is crowned in Westminster Abbey on May 12, 1937, he will be the first English Monarch to be crowned since the Statute of Westminster set out in legal form the complete independence of the Dominions.

The Statute lays it down that every member of the British Commonwealth has equal rights in relation to the Crown, which is the symbol of their free association.

Hidden microphones in the Abbey will carry the service to every corner of the Empire, and the greatest congregation ever known will join in the solemn act of consecration.

In planning the Coronation, procedure dating back to the days of the Anglo-Saxon kings is followed.

Westminster Abbey will be closed probably three months before the ceremony. The stage or theatre will be erected by the Office of Works at the point where the transepts divide the nave from the choir.

"TERROR GANGS" IN HYDE PARK

Magistrate's Comment

Scenes at Marble Arch when police officers had to use their truncheons were described at Marlborough-street police-court recently.

Charles McCann, 28, bar porter, of Chichester-road, Paddington, and Patrick Joseph Kearney, 22, boot repairer, were each sentenced to three months' hard labour for being a med with open razors with a felonious intent at Park-lane, W.

Det.-Sergt. Daws, of New Scotland Yard, said that at 11.20 one night he saw two men running from Hyde Park pursued by about 40 other men. In the pursuing crowd he saw Kearney and McCann, both of whom had open razors in their hands. Other men in the crowd had weapons, one a bottle and another a hammer.

The magistrate, Mr. J. B. Sandbach, K.C., remarked: "It is perfectly intolerable that there should be scenes like this in London. One knows there are gangs going about terrorising people in Hyde Park."

Orders will be given for weaving the hangings of blue and silver grey which will adorn the Abbey, and for the cloth of gold which from earliest times has been used at the crowning of English kings.

The Law Officers have to examine the Coronation Oath to decide whether the new status of the Irish Free State, and the passing of the Statute of Westminster necessitate any amendment.

English Coronation ritual is the oldest and most elaborate religious ceremony of its kind in the world.

It has been performed 38 times since William the Conqueror was crowned at Westminster on Christmas Day, 1066.

Coronation Book

The main outlines of the service are set down in the Liber Regalis, or Coronation Book, which was inscribed by unknown monks 600 years ago. Much of the ceremonial can be traced to pageantry which marked the coronation at Constantinople of the Eastern Emperors of Rome and to the anointment of the Hebrew Kings.

DANCER'S INJURY

£6,500 Award Halved By Agreement

The appeal of Jack Eggar Ltd., theatrical producers, against an award to Miss Ina Scarlett, a dancer, of £6,500 damages was settled in the Appeal Court, London recently on the basis of payment to Miss Scarlett of £3,250.

Miss Ina Scarlett, who is 22, and lives at King Charles-road, Surbiton, Surrey, was injured appearing in the chorus in "Jill Darrin" at the Saville Theatre. She fell over an iron brace or "sill" fixed on the stage, and the result, she said, was that she had a stiff elbow which would affect her balance as a dancer.

Jack Eggar Ltd., had denied negligence, and one of the grounds of the appeal was that, in any event, the damages were excessive.

Their leading counsel, Sir William Jowitt, K.C., who announced the settlement, suggested that each side should bear its own costs. Lord Justice Slesser said that the appeal would be allowed on the terms indicated.

JUDGMENT
RESERVEDBuilding Contract
DisputeCASE BEFORE FULL COURT OF APPEAL

At the Full Court of Appeal before His Honour Sir Atholl Macgregor and His Honour Mr. Justice Hayden, this morning, Messrs. Sze Tung and Company, represented by Mr. H. C. Macnamara (instructed by Messrs. Russ and Company), sought to reverse a decision, given by Mr. Justice Lindell on January 4, 1936, upholding an arbitration award made by Messrs. Chau and Lee in favour of Li Yik-yin, who was represented by Mr. Leo d'Almada, jr., instructed by Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist.

The arbitration award was in respect of damages for overtime work on a building contract, and Messrs. Sze Tung and Company, who were not satisfied with the arbitrator's decision, sought to quash it before Mr. Justice Lindell, who, however, upheld it.

On behalf of his client, Mr. d'Almada jr., brought a cross-appeal to contend that so much of the decision of the Hon. Mr. Justice Lindell, as relates to the implied authority given to the arbitrators by the appellants, to award damages etc., should be varied, namely that the said appellants impliedly authorised the arbitrators to award damages for delay, and that inasmuch as no objection to the arbitrators' jurisdiction was taken by the appellants at or before the arbitration, they had waived their rights, if any, in respect thereof.

Explanation Unnecessary
Addressing the Court, Mr. Macnamara said that these proceedings arose out of a building contract which was entered into in 1932 and which had already given rise to litigation which, fortunately, had come to an end. Counsel went on to say that the appeal concerned an award made by the arbitrators themselves and that the point on which he would ask their Lordships to find in his favour was this, that in his submission of this part of the dispute was not a dispute which came within Clause 4 of the arbitration. Mr. Macnamara went on to say that he did not think any of the disputes could come under this head, contending that before the clause could be invoked at all, there must be a genuine dispute as to the meaning of the contract itself.

"In this case," said Mr. Macnamara, "there is no need to explain the meaning of Clause 15 of the contract as the parties concerned knew perfectly well what it meant all along. They never disputed it at all, but what they did dispute, and dispute very strongly, is the number of days which elapsed after March 2 (the date of completion of the building construction under the contract)."

Architects' Powers
In his reply, Mr. d'Almada jr., said that in this particular case, if there was no dispute on the Clause; there was enough evidence to show that the parties had been at variance, and the whole point was that the architects, who were the arbitrators, should be the sole judge as to the meaning of this specification. Counsel went on to say that even if in fact the arbitrators had no authority to make the award, and Mr. d'Almada said that he submitted, "from the correspondence and from the conduct throughout the whole proceedings, both parties thought the arbitrators had jurisdiction and treated them as having it."

Coming to the cross-appeal, Counsel said that if in fact, under Clause 15, the arbitrators had no power to deal with the point in dispute, they were explicitly authorised to do so by Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist and impliedly authorised by Messrs. Russ and Company, "and where the learned trial judge, in my submission, went wrong, and it was probably due to my not having made my argument clearer, was in holding that this was a waiver solely, and not a question of implied authority."

Concluding, Counsel said that "no question arises in this case of one party misleading the other and they acted in such a way as to give the arbitrators authority to give the award. It is not a question of whether or not they knew of any point and waived it, but whether, not having taken this objection of the arbitrators' jurisdiction at the arbitration, that point is open to them now. I submit it is not. The objection should have been taken before, and failing to do it resulted in implied authority."

MUI FONG COLLEGE
PRIZE DAYMr. Aw Boon Haw
Gives Away AwardsCEREMONY AT KING'S THEATRE

Mr. Aw Boon-haw, a director of the Mui Fong College, gave away the prizes at the annual prize-giving ceremony of the College, which was held at the King's Theatre yesterday.

After the usual ceremonies had been performed, Mr. Chan Tityat who presided, gave a short speech, in which he said, "As a school we are naturally responsible for the education of the young children, so that when they leave school and go out into the world they will be useful citizens. We do not therefore regard this as an ordinary meeting, but as an important occasion when we are able to return to society the children whom we have been trying our best to educate to become good citizens."

The reports of the girls' and boys' colleges were then read by Mrs. Chan Tityat and Mr. T. Y. Chan respectively, after which a concert consisting of plays and songs was given by the students, from both the boys' and girls' departments, and also from the kindergarten class.

An item rendered by the little children won a great deal of applause, while selections of European and Chinese music were also played by the school band.

I submit it is not. The objection should have been taken before, and failing to do it resulted in implied authority."

AMERICAN SAILOR
FINED $100Assault On Motor
Boat Coxswain

A fine of $100 was imposed by Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning on A. C. Phillips, a cook on the U.S.S. Tulsa, who was charged with assaulting Leung Kam, a motor-boat coxswain, on July 9. He was also ordered to pay $10 amends to the complainant.

Defendant stated that if he did anything he was not aware of it as he had been drinking.

The complainant said that he was near the Wanchai Praya on the day when defendant and a friend came up and asked to be taken back to their ship. They boarded the motor-boat and the complainant proceeded to start the motor.

Defendant came up from behind him and hit him on the head with a bottle and then pushed him into the water. Defendant jumped in after him but the complainant swam ashore and reported the matter to the Police. The defendant's friend stayed on board and tried to stop the defendant from assaulting the complainant.

Further evidence was given by Leung Fuk, a foki on the boat, who said that the defendant wanted to hit him but missed and struck the complainant.

ATTEMPTED MURDER
AND SUICIDEGrim Tragedy In Kennedy Road

An attempted murder and suicide took place at No. 32, Kennedy Road this morning at 6 a.m. as the result of which Cheung Kau, aged 25, a concubine of a wealthy Chinese, has been admitted to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from wounds on the arms and back, while her assailant, Ng Yun-tong, died some four hours after admission from severe self-inflicted wounds in the abdomen.

It appears that the man called at the above address at 6 a.m. this morning and entered the house through the front door, which was open. He went straight to the woman's bedroom and stabbed her on the arms and the back while she was still in bed. He then stabbed himself.

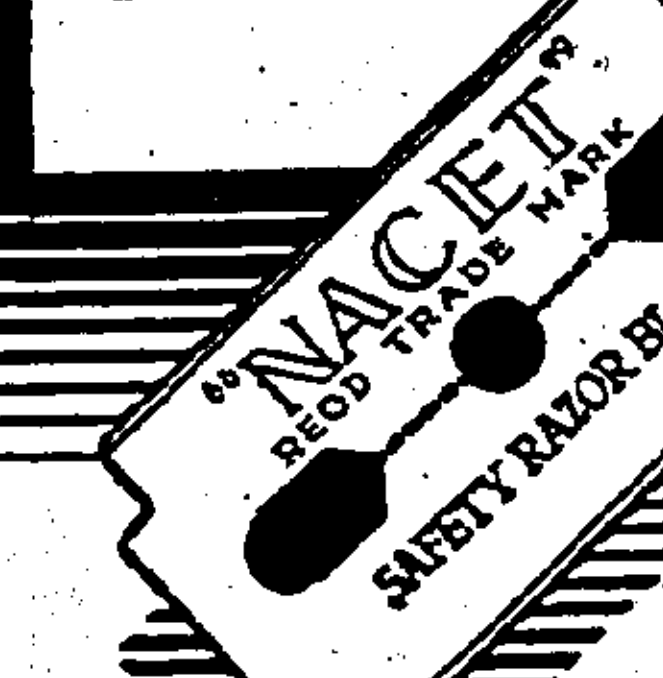

Both were taken to the Government Civil Hospital, where the woman was immediately operated upon, while the man was in a very serious condition.

FREE PUBLICITY IN PAPERS

Effort In Interest Of Readers

RESOURCES TO BE POOLED

The conference of the Empire Press Union was concluded in London last month, and it was decided to meet again in London next year.

Major J. J. Astor, M.P., president.

The problem of free publicity in newspaper editorial columns was raised by Mr. F. P. Bishop, chairman of the Advertising Committee of the Newspaper Proprietors Association. He said that in recent years the problem had become acute because there had been a deliberate attempt to organise free publicity on a scientific basis. All the newspaper bodies in England were now alive to this danger and were doing what they could to combat it.

He did not condemn all Press agents and their activities. The better kind of Press agent undoubtedly fulfilled a useful and necessary purpose. There could be no objection to his activities as long as they were conducted frankly and without deception.

Readers' First Claim
 The problem of free publicity was really a fundamental one for the newspapers. Advertisers did not generally realise that it was important as they were—it was the reader who came first. It was on account of the reader that the news and editorial columns must be kept free of matter that was deceptive, and not what it professed to be.

Mr. Arthur Grime, a past president of the Newspaper Society, thought that the free publicity problem would never be solved. They could only strive to keep the evil as small as possible, so that, however much material might be circulated, very little of it would ultimately appear in print.

Mr. R. L. Palmer, Plymouth, said that news agencies had set a very high standard in resisting attempts of publicity agents to get their stories into the newspapers.

The conference passed a resolution that every effort should be made to defeat attempts to obtain disguised publicity, and that machinery should be set up for pooling information between all its members as to the persons making such attempts, the methods used in them, and means that could be employed to defeat them.

RAIL TRAFFIC STOPPED

Two Accidents At Same Station

A. J. Wheddon, aged 35, of Turquand-street London, S.E., who fell from the platform in front of a train at Lambeth North Station, on the Bakerloo line, was taken to Lambeth Hospital with head and hand injuries and detained.

Trains were held up for about four minutes, and shortly afterwards another delay occurred when a train broke down in the same station, putting the south-bound line between Piccadilly and Lambeth North out of action.

LADY JELICOE FINED

Alleged Speeding In Built-Up Area

Countess Jellicoe, of St. Lawrence Hall, Ventnor, Isle of Wight, was fined £2 at Winchester last month for speeding in a built-up area. Her licence was endorsed. A constable stated that Lady Jellicoe's car reached 40 m.p.h. and overtook another.

Mr. E. Brimridge, defending, said that Lady Jellicoe had stated in a letter that she passed the other car when the road was clear—"no traffic, no houses, no street lamps, just downhill."

FEWER MURDERS IN STRAITS

The Population Are "Well-Behaved"

There were 29 cases of murder in the Colony during 1935, says the annual report of the Inspector General of Police, Straits Settlements. These cases involved the deaths of 32 persons and injuries to six others.

The numbers of cases in recent years were 50 in 1931, 47 in 1932, 28 in 1933 and 26 in 1934. Some of the reports of homicide were eventually reclassified by the Courts as culpable homicide not amounting to murder, while in others the offenders were found guilty of lesser offences such as causing hurt.

The difference between cases and deaths is accounted for by two of the offenders in Malacca simultaneously causing death and injury to more than one person.

Gang Robbery

There was, as in 1934, no case of murder committed in the course of gang robbery, but four murders were committed in the course of robbery.

In Singapore the drop in the number of murders from 85 in 1927 and 77 in 1928 to 14 in 1934 was maintained by a further drop of one, making 13 cases for Singapore. In Penang Island on the other hand murders rose from 5 to 12, which number approximates to that of 1933 in which year there were 14 cases.

"These figures are still well below average and are an indication of the well-behaved character of the general population," it is remarked.

FORMER "MESSIAHS" OF ENGLAND

on psychology for the clue. Delusions such as those of Joanna Southcott and Richard Brothers originate in some defect in "psychological weaning." The child, if it is to lead a sane and healthy life, must leave behind the dependence on the mother, which is its infant condition, and face the world for itself, establish contacts with its environment; find its place in society. Where this process is not successfully carried through we have the seeds of mental derangement, and the origin of delusions. The mind, unable to cope with the problems of life, a prey to weakness and isolation, builds up a fictitious world, in which it feels safe and powerful; but unfortunately the fictitious world does not remain fictitious to the patient. He comes to regard it as real: it becomes his world.

"Day-Dreams"

Most of us have "day-dreams," in which we play a much nobler part than we do in real life. We are in no danger so long as we know that the dreams are dreams—it is when they invade our active lives and pretend to be reality that we step on that slippery slope whose end is delusion.

Mr. Matthews is right in thinking that delusions are not specially religious in nature. An atheist may equally well suffer from them. When they occur in minds which have a religious tone and in men who have been brought up with religious people they naturally tend to be connected with the ideas of religion.

But I think there are some questions which Mr. Matthews does not attempt to answer—they lay outside his purpose. We wonder why religion, which should help us to grow to our full mental and moral stature, often seems to have the opposite result, why it appears to warp and stunt rather than produce full-grown men.

Lack Of Humility

The life stories of these eccentrics throw some light on this matter. They differ very widely, but they all agree in one thing—the lack of humility. "Walk humbly with thy God" is a precept not only of true religion but of sanity. This does not mean that we should pretend to ourselves that we are worse or more stupid than we really are, but that we should try to get an accurate idea of our powers and our character. Most of the deluded people who are described in this book would have been saved from their disasters if they had practised humility.

A much deeper question is raised in my mind by this book. A certain element not of delusion but of illusion enters into all religion. The thoughts which we have about God are necessarily imperfect and inadequate.

A Large Problem

How shall we distinguish between truth imperfectly stated and partially understood and sheer delusion? That is a very large problem, but I think the answer has been given by Jesus, when He said: "By their fruits shall ye know them."

When we find that certain beliefs, as, for example, those of these false "Messiahs," lead to an incapacity to deal with life and are not fruitful in promoting human welfare we must regard them as delusion. When, on the other hand, we find beliefs which lead to a courageous facing of life's problems and which are capable of being thought out and worked out with even greater richness and benefit to mankind, we may be sure that we are in contact with spiritual Reality. There may still be illusion mingled with such beliefs, but they are not sheer delusions or disastrous and disabling mistakes.

ANCIENT REGALIA AND PAGEANTRY

The Liber Regalis is based directly on the Pontifical of Egbert of the 9th century, which was the order for the crowning or "hallowing" of the Anglo-Saxon monarchs. The words of some of the anthems sung in this service will be used at King Edward's Coronation.

By constitutional practice the Liber Regalis is in the custody of the Dean of Westminster, Dr. Foxley Norris, who by the right of a thousand years instructs the King in his duties at the Coronation. The book is preserved in the Abbey library, where it is open to inspection.

All sovereigns from Richard II. to Elizabeth carried the book at their Coronations.

Latin Service Translated. The Latin service was translated for the Coronation of James I. during the period which produced the matchless prose of the authorised version and turned the Latin formula of the Coronation service into "King's English." Modifications were made on the instruction of James II. to meet his Roman Catholic views, and there were a few changes when William and Mary came to the throne.

In essentials, however, the service when King Edward is crowned will be the one in which peers, knights and burgesses have joined through 600 years.

Yet the crowning of King Edward VIII. will be unlike any other ceremony in the history of the world.

By aeroplane and modern liner representatives of the Empire will come to London for the crowning of their King. Many will fly from distant Dominions in shorter time than the king's lieges of former centuries took to ride from remote Westminster.

Before the King may be crowned the people must signify their assent.

"God Save the King"

From every side of the "theatre" in which the people are gathered, Dr. Lang, Archbishop of Canterbury, will proclaim: "Sirs, I present to you King Edward, the undoubted King of the realm. Wherefore all you who are come this day to do your homage, are you willing to do the same?"

The King will rise and turn slowly to the four sides, showing himself to all in the Abbey. From every corner will come the cry with which through the centuries the people have acclaimed their sovereign: "God save the King. God save the King. God save the King. God save the King."

The hidden microphones will carry the shout to the crowds thronging the streets. And in countless churches and halls throughout the Empire the cry will be taken up while the trumpets sound a fanfare of rejoicing.

Oblation Of Gold

The King, preceded by the peers whose duty it is to carry the regalia, will walk to the altar, and there, kneeling, will deliver an oblation of gold, thus in the words of the service fulfilling the Commandment: "Thou shalt not appear before Thy God empty." Then after the Litany the voice of King Edward will be heard pronouncing the Coronation Oath. He will pledge himself to govern Britain and the Dominions "according to the Statutes in Parliament agreed on and the respective laws and customs of the same."

In the next part of the service King Edward will be anointed on the head, hands and breast with consecrated oil. In mediaeval times this was regarded as the most important part of the ceremony, for without anointing, the King was not a king.

Lifted to the Throne

The Coronation robes will be placed on the King. He will be invested with the regalia and crowned by the Archbishop.

Archbishops, Bishops and Peers will lift him to the throne as centuries ago Teutonic warriors lifted their chief upon a shield. The Archbishops, Bishops, Princes and Peers will come to do homage.

The congregation and the Empire will make their acclamation, this time to the anointed and crowned King. The drums will beat, and again the trumpets will sound their fanfare.

The Communion will be taken by the King, and the Benediction pronounced, he will come from the Abbey like his predecessors for a thousand years to meet the welcoming cheers of his people.

5,000 ACCLAIM GIPSY SMITH

Diamond Jubilee As Evangelist

SPEECH TO CROWD FROM BALCONY

There were remarkable scenes at Central Hall, Westminster, last month when a mass meeting to celebrate Gipsy Smith's diamond jubilee as an evangelist brought more than twice as many people as the place could hold.

When the doors were opened a crowd estimated at 5,000 poured in. The main hall was packed in a few minutes and the two halls on the ground floor were then filled. The speeches were relayed to these and to the entrance halls. A crowd of several hundreds was left in the street. Gipsy Smith, who is 76, addressed these from a balcony window before entering the hall.

Canon "Dick" Sheppard, in a one-minute speech, said, he was tired to death of oratory. He wanted only to know whether a man was sincere, and he was quite sure Gipsy Smith was sincere.

King's Message Read. Congratulatory messages were read from, among others, the King, Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Baldwin and the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Mr. Lloyd George said Gipsy Smith's message was more than ever needed now, in a world nearer to the brink of the abyss than he cared to think, a world where wrong was triumphant and righteousness was timorous, fearful, inept, beaten.

The great audience, which had risen to its feet for Mr. Lloyd George, rose again for Gipsy Smith, who was accompanied by a son and daughter and other relatives. He sang a hymn with his daughter before his speech.

He claimed that people remained outside the churches because they hated "camouflage of the Gospel, the cant and humbug, the professional thing gone through without fire or passion."

It was a libel, he said, to call young people godless. "I am getting a bigger response from young people of 15 to 30 than ever before in my life," he declared.

WOMAN'S BABY GASSED

Attempted Murder And Suicide

Mrs. Jessie Thacker, of Victoria-road, Aston, who gave birth to a baby on the day she and her two young children were found unconscious in a gas-filled room, was charged at Birmingham later with attempted murder and suicide. She was remanded, bail being granted on condition that she stayed in a home until the next hearing. It was stated that the gassed children recovered, but the baby died shortly after birth.

London Evidence Given In French "Red Max" Case

Sir Rollo Graham-Campbell sat for several hours at Bow-street yesterday last month hearing evidence concerning the murder of "Max the Red." The proceedings were in camera.

The depositions taken will be forwarded to France for the trial of George Lacroix, or Roger Vernon, and Suzanne Naylor, or Gertrude, who were arrested in that country. They are accused of the murder of Max Kassel, otherwise Emil Allard, whose body, with six bullet wounds, was found under a hedge near St. Albans, Herts, on January 24.

CHANNEL BUOYS

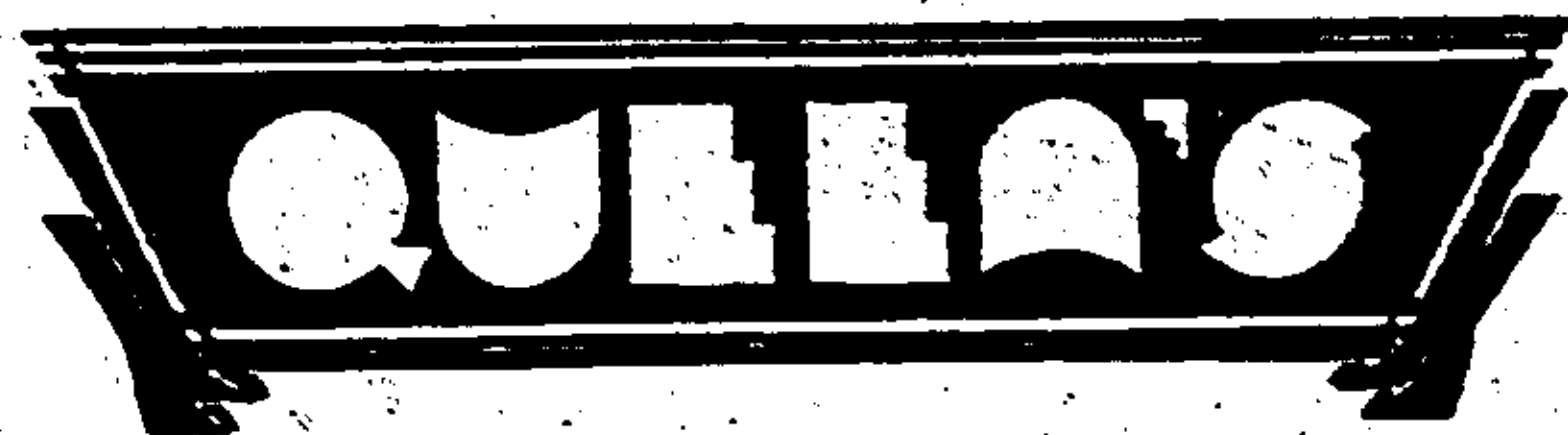

WHAT would modern navigation do without the channel buoys—those floating markers that keep ships off the shoals? In a very real sense, the advertisements in this paper are channel buoys, placed for your protection—for the safeguarding of the family expenditures.

These advertisements are the signed statements of reputable firms who seek your patronage on the single basis of giving value for every dollar spent. They are honest statements, the only kind an advertiser can use and remain an advertiser.

People who get the most for their dollar in the market-places are those who keep an eye on the channel buoys. Day by day, they follow the advertisements to learn what and where to buy to the best advantage. Make this a habit. Study the advertisements, in the interest of shrewder buying.

The advertisers in this paper have charted the channels of buying for you. Keep to the course.

Tender for the maintenance, repair, etc., of Roads, etc., will be received at the Colonial Secretary's Office until noon of Monday, July 27, 1936, for the maintenance, repair, and minor extensions or alterations of Roads, Street, Bridges, Public Cemeteries, Recreation Grounds, and relative works in the Colony of Hong Kong, Kowloon, New Kowloon and the New Territories from September 1, 1936 to August 31, 1937. FINANCE PLANS IN GERMANY

METHODS IN VOGUE EXPLAINED

DR. SCHACHT INTERVIEWED

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL

Berlin, To-day.
Answering questions addressed to him by a German news agency, Dr. H. Schacht made the following statement about the finance methods now in vogue in dealing with Germany's greatest national problem:

"It is not necessary to devote any lengthy discussion to prove that the total amount required by the German Government for carrying out its anti-unemployment campaign and assuring the defence of the nation is greater than the amounts received from taxation. We cannot tax the German people so heavily that the whole amount required for the creation of work could thereby be financed. It would also be unjust were the present generation to bear alone the whole cost of the armament which will protect future generations also.

"Instead of overburdening the people with taxation the Reich Government offers the people a loan which permits the retention of its savings and the enjoyment of the interest thereon. It goes without saying that the loans issued each year will not exceed

SPANISH DISORDERS MARXISTS AGAIN CLASH WITH POLICE

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL

Madrid, To-day.

Shortly after midnight on Saturday, four unknown persons armed with pistols broke into the room of the broadcasting station of Valencia and gave into the microphone a cheer for Fascism, and declared that the Fascist movement had triumphed. The perpetrators then fled and obliged the Governor to broadcast a short message to quiet the population, which believed that a new revolution had broken out.

Despite the Governor's reassuring declaration, a crowd consisting mostly of Marxists assembled outside the broadcasting station, waving a Red Flag and singing the "Internationale," and marched through the streets. They broke into the offices of the Valencia Right-Wing Party and all the furniture was thrown into the street. Fire was also set to the building, but the Fire Brigade arrived in time to quench the flames. The attempts to set fire to the Right-wing paper's premises were frustrated by the police.—Trans-Ocean Service.

the savings from year to year. I might say that our finance methods are just as unconventional as the Versailles Treaty was as Treaty of Peace. One cannot reproach a war invalid for not walking along according to established custom." — Trans-Ocean Service.

AMAZING DISPLAYS BY U.S. ATHLETES

Jesse Owens Shatters World Mark For 200 Metres

New York, To-day.
In the Olympic trials which are being held here under the auspices of the American Amateur Athletic Union, two Negroes, Cornelius Johnson, of Los Angeles, and Dave Abrington, of Ohio University, shattered the world record for the High Jump when they tied at 6 feet 9 3/4 inches.

The present Olympic record for the High Jump stands to the credit of Harold M. Osborne, of America, who cleared the bar at 6 ft. 6 ins. at Paris, in 1924, while Cornelius Johnson, one of the two Negroes above, was the former holder of the American N.A.A.U. mark with 6 ft. 7 ins., recorded last year at Lincoln, Nebraska.

The High Jump world record previously stood to the credit of W. Marty (U.S.A.), who cleared the bar at 6 ft. 9 3/4 ins. on April 28, 1934.

AMAZING RECORD-BREAKING Later: Athletic marks galore were lowered in both track and field events.

Jesse Owens, the sensational Negro flash from Ohio State University, set up a new world's record in the 200 Metres when he clocked 21 seconds, bettering Ralph Metcalfe's mark by three-tenths of a second.

Harold Manning, of Kansas, won the 3,000 Metres in 9 mins. 8 2/10 secs., while Glen Hardin, of Louisiana, the Olympic Games champion, shattered his own mark for the 400 Metres Hurdles by clocking 51 4/10, clipping 2 1/10 secs. off his Olympic mark established at the Los Angeles Games in 1932.

Glen Cunningham, of Kansas, holder of the world's record for the Mile and also the American N.A.A.U. title over the 1,500 Metres, shattered both Luigi Becal's 1932 Olympic Games time of 3 mins. 51 2/10 secs. and his own mark of 3 mins 52 1/10 secs. by covering the distance in 3 mins. 49 9/10 secs.

DONALD LASH AGAIN Donald Lash, of Indiana, lowered the A.N.A.A.U. 5,000 Metres run mark by 9 9/10 secs. breaking the tape in 15 mins. 4 2/10 secs., while Archie Williams, of California, broke the American 400 Metres Hurdles mark by one second, being timed at 46 6/10 secs.

Forest Towns, of Georgia, failed to better the 110 Metres Hurdles mark by one-tenth of a second, clocking 14 2/10 secs. Another American native record was shattered in the 800 Metres when John Woodruff, of Pittsburgh, broke the tape in 1 min. 51 secs., bettering the old mark by 2 1/10 secs.

OWENS' WORLD RECORD The 200 Metres (with one bend) was won by Jesse Owens, of the Ohio State University, who established a new world's record by blocking 21 secs.

Brilliant form was witnessed in the Pole Jump event, three Californians in Earle Meadows, Bill Sefton, and W. "Bill" Graber, the world record holder, tying for first place at 14 ft. 3 ins., 1 3/4 inches outside the last named jumper's world mark. All three shattered last year's American native mark of 13 ft. 10 3/4 ins.

Two other field event records were lowered during the course of the meeting, Lee Earlett, of Detroit, throwing the javelin 223 3/4 ft. to beat the old N.A.A.U. mark by 6 ft. 1 3/4 ins.

TORRANCE STILL BEST Jack Torrance, of Louisiana, broke his own American native record for the 16-lb. shot with 51 ft. 6 3/4 ins., which bettered his old mark by one-eighth of an inch. His world record for the same event stands at 57 ft. 1 inch, or 5 ft. 6 3/4 inches better than yesterday's mark.

Gordon Dunn, of San Francisco, failed to better the American Native record for the Discus Throw at 157 ft. 7 1/2 inches, failing by 1 ft. 4 ins.

Roland Romero, of Louisiana, won the Hop Step and Jump with 49 ft. 9 ins., failing to better last year's best by 7 3/4 inches.

Bill Bonthron, another famous American miler and holder of the world's record for the 1,500 Metres, finished fourth in this event, while Ben Eastman, holder of the world's record for the 800 metres together with Tom Hampson (England), failed to secure a place in the latter event yesterday, being placed sixth. Both thus failed to qualify for the Olympic finals.—Renter.

The Colombian team for the Olympic Games has now joined the inhabitants of the Olympic Village, having arrived at the Leichter Bahnhof from Hamburg late on Saturday night. ITALY'S VIEWS ON LOCARNO

Why Conference Was Ignored

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

"CHINA MAIL" SPECIAL

Rome, To-day.

The Italian Government has issued the following official announcement explaining why it was unable to see its way to attend the Locarno Conference in Brussels:

"The Belgian Premier invited the Italian Government to participate at the assembly of the Locarno Powers at Brussels. In its answer the Italian Government confirms its readiness to make a concrete contribution towards assuring peace in Europe, but points out that the existence of certain Mediterranean obligations prevent its participation in the work of international co-operation, as it had so keenly hoped.

"The Italian Government has also expressed its view that it would be expedient to invite Germany as well to take part in the deliberations. The absence of one of the signatory powers of the Locarno Pact would in actual fact make the existing situation more difficult instead of clearer." — Trans-Ocean Service.
